

Norwich trip (23rd to 25th November 2017)

Six members of the Travel Club visited Norwich for three-day break by train. We managed to get a bargain fare of £16 return, by negotiating a group travel rate booked well in advance. The first afternoon was spent in the Castle museum viewing an exhibition of Rembrandt drawings. A 90-minute guided tour was booked, starting at the Forum tourist office and ending at the cathedral, listening to the history of the many churches and pubs.

Norwich was once a wealthy city with its riches earned from weaving, welcoming incomers over the centuries. The city was vibrant and busy with a fantastic light tunnel, an art nouveau arcade, pedestrianised streets, an historic market and an interesting mix of medieval and modern architecture. This was a most enjoyable short break. Looking forward to our next adventure.

Written by Clare Lyne 26 November 2017